Tiger Viewpoint '86

An aerial Viewpoint shows the facilities of Oktaha Schools. However, people who make up the school see the year from their own perspective, their private Viewpoint.

This book is a storage place for memories of the school year as seen through the eyes of the people who come together to form a real school, not just the buildings. This book represents each group's Viewpoint.

Senior Viewpoint

Seniors have a unique Viewpoint. They are the product of thirteen years spent in school. The time spent at Oktaha High School will become some of their most precious memories.

Mr. Phil Stacey has been an important part of those memories. He has acted as class sponsor for five years. The Senior class is very grateful for his help.

Just as they look back over the years with warm feelings, Seniors look forward to the future with confidence. They are prepared.

Traci Richey, Jennifer Mullen, Sheila McClary, and Larissa Ayers manage to have a good time.

Seniors enjoys a time together on the fire truck.

Mark Satterfield projects a good image.

Phil Stacey has served as class sponsor for five years.

Lawrence Greuel, Mike Ownby, David Brown, and Mark Satterfield really support their buddy, James Wright.

Nat Kimball is hard at work in his English class.

Senior Hall of Fame

Early in the year, the Seniors chose from their classmates a Hall of Fame. They decided by ballot what person best fit each category.

The Hall of Fame has been a tradition at Oktaha High School, and the Seniors of '86 are proud to carry on this tradition.

Jeff Freeman and Netta Bowden were honored with the most sought after titles in the Hall of Fame, Mr. and Miss Senior '86.

Susan Elmenhorst and Lawrence Greuel were selected as Most Likely to Succeed.

Stacey Morgan and Mark Satterfield were elected as Hardest Working.

Christopher Harris and Kirsten Fredrick were chosen as Best Dressed. Mike Ownby and Karla Evington were named Friendliest.

Seniors in action

Stacey Morgan shows Gina Cantrell the fine points of cooking.

Karla Evington and Denise Guthrie are a couple of ding-dongs.

Wayne Goetz wishes he were somewhere else.

Denny Lewis, Kim Coppin and Jeff Freeman got caught in the act.

Kevin Hyslope daydreams about his big weekend.

Diana Marshall always has a pleasant smile.

Ronald Smith is hard at work in English.

Christopher Harris and Holly Newton study hard for the big exam.

Stacey Morgan, Susan Elmenhorst, and Angie Williams say, "Kiss us, we've got the Signal."

Caught in the act

Netta Bowden, Kirsten Fredrick, Gina Cantrell, and Karla Evington have more fun than is legally allowed.

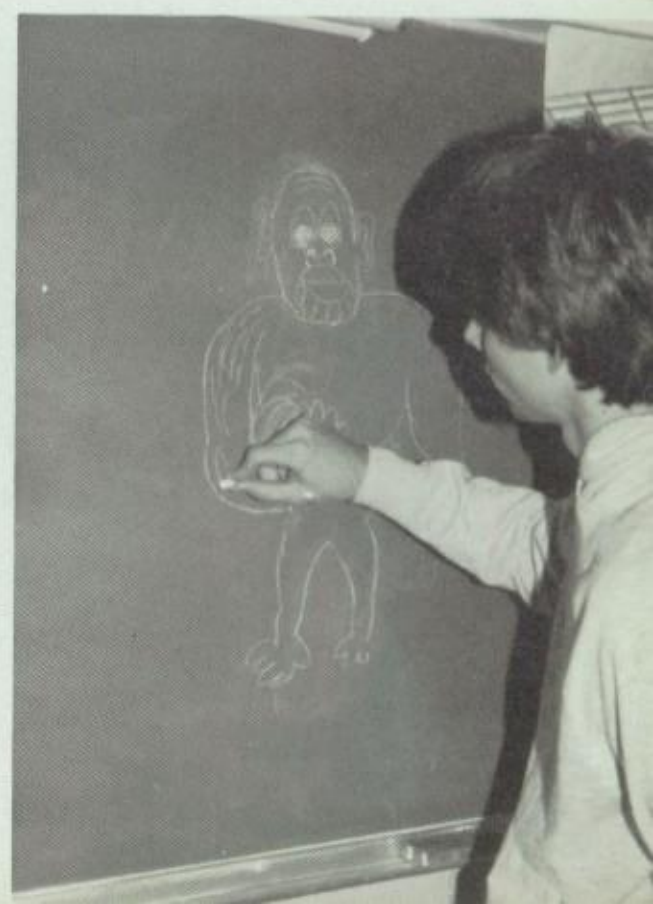

Sheila McClary and Jennifer Mullen like to hang around school.

David Brown displays his tremendous talent.

Mark Satterfield and Mike Ownby touch up the OHS in the hall.

Class Viewpoint

Classes, grades seven through eleven, have an inside Viewpoint. These students realize how special the formative years of their lives really are. They know, sometimes reluctantly, that they must soon leave childhood behind. They also know, sometimes eagerly, that adulthood is fast approaching.

As teenagers, these students know that Oktaha High School does not hold an apology for small size or rural location, but instead a promise of excellence — a sound preparation for a bright future.

Shelly Allen gets Cassie Scoggin's interest as she tells her something really juicy.

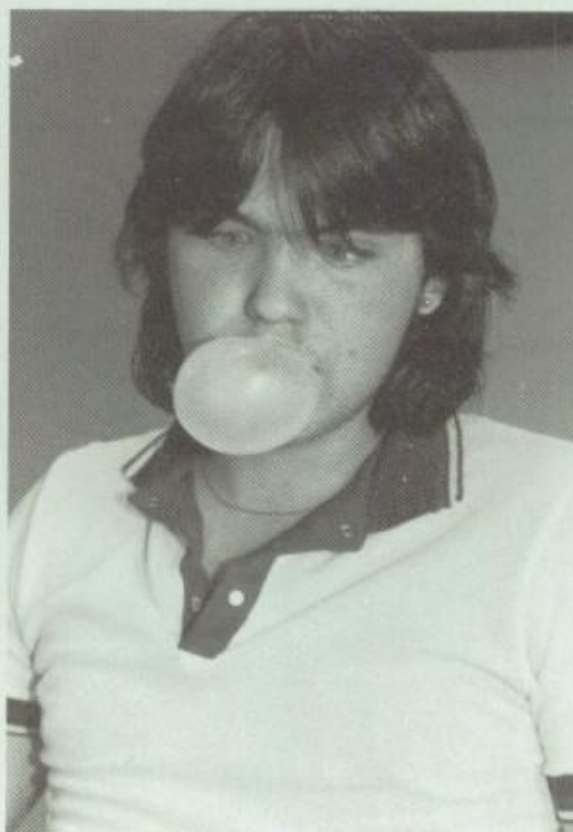

These strange creatures are Larissa Ayers and Sheri Greene, alias Tommy Lee and Nikki Sixx.

Billy Roach and Brent Eller try to sneak in class late, but they always get caught.

Bryan Gant appears to enjoy the challenge of studying hard.

Eighth grade students Scot Bunch, Brigett Williams, Dwayne Elam, Judy Bannon, and Ronnie Headrick appear ready to show anyone how tough the eighth grade really is.

Jerry Lewis is particularly talented at blowing bubbles and seldom getting caught.

Elementary Viewpoint

The Elementary Viewpoint is enjoying the present, yet looking up to the future.

These students have learned to work hard in the classroom. They study reading, language, arithmetic, science, and social studies.

Just as the students have learned to study hard, they have also learned to play hard at recess. They enjoy the Big Toy, jumping rope, chasing each other, and shooting baskets.

Music, art, and physical education add the final dimension to the Elementary Viewpoint.

At Halloween the kindergarten class stuffed two scarecrows. Much to their surprise one of the scarecrows came to life. After coming back from recess, one of the children noticed the scarecrow's cap wasn't straight. When Dustin Hopkins tried to straighten it, the scarecrow came to life, grabbed him, and caused a leaping of hearts throughout his fellow classmates.

Sports Viewpoint

Almost everyone in a small school such as ours feels the Sports Viewpoint is a very exciting one. In October, practice intensifies in readiness for the first big game, usually in early November.

Coach Pam Jennings heads the Lady Tigers, who are a fairly young group. They have won the majority of their games this year.

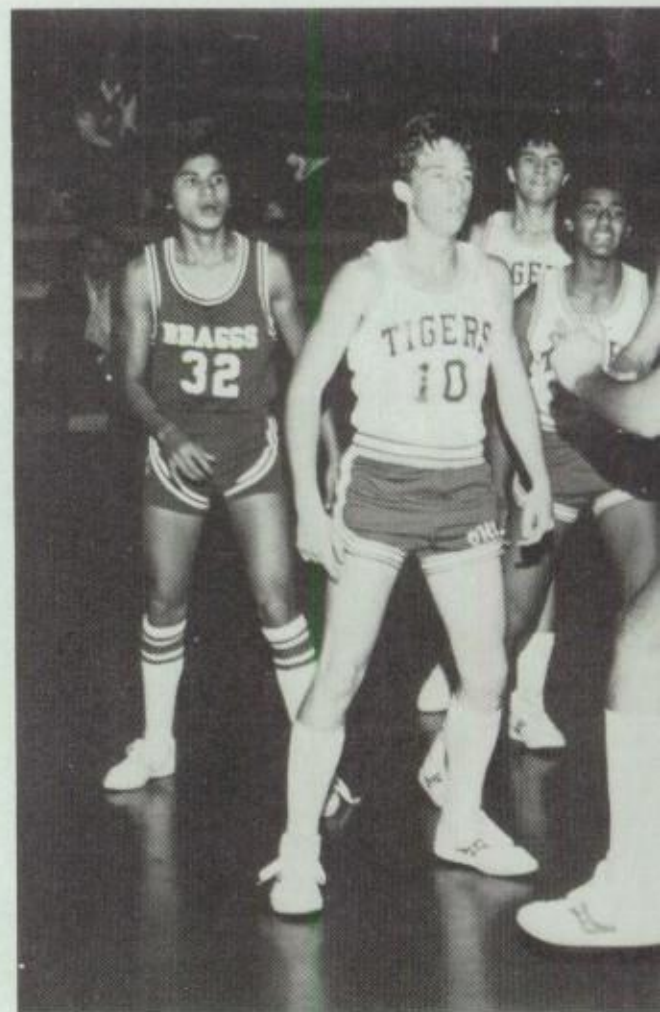

The Tigers, under the leadership of Coach Terry Elam, have not enjoyed a successful year, but they have gained valuable experience that will benefit next year's returners.

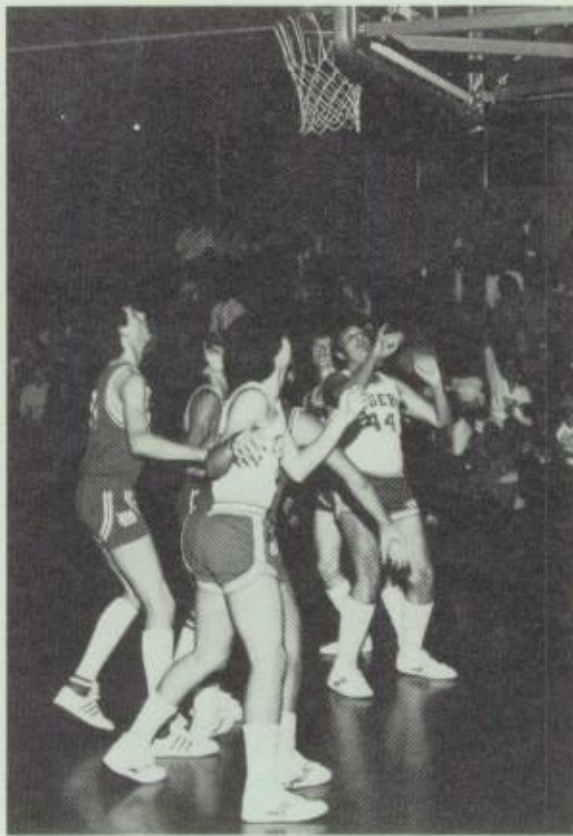

The Cheerleaders, sponsored by Katie Smith, have worked hard to keep spirits up during pep assemblies and ballgames.

Go Tigers and Lady Tigers!

All Lady Tigers listen intently to game instructions from Coach Jennings. The word was INTENTLY, Leslie Collier.

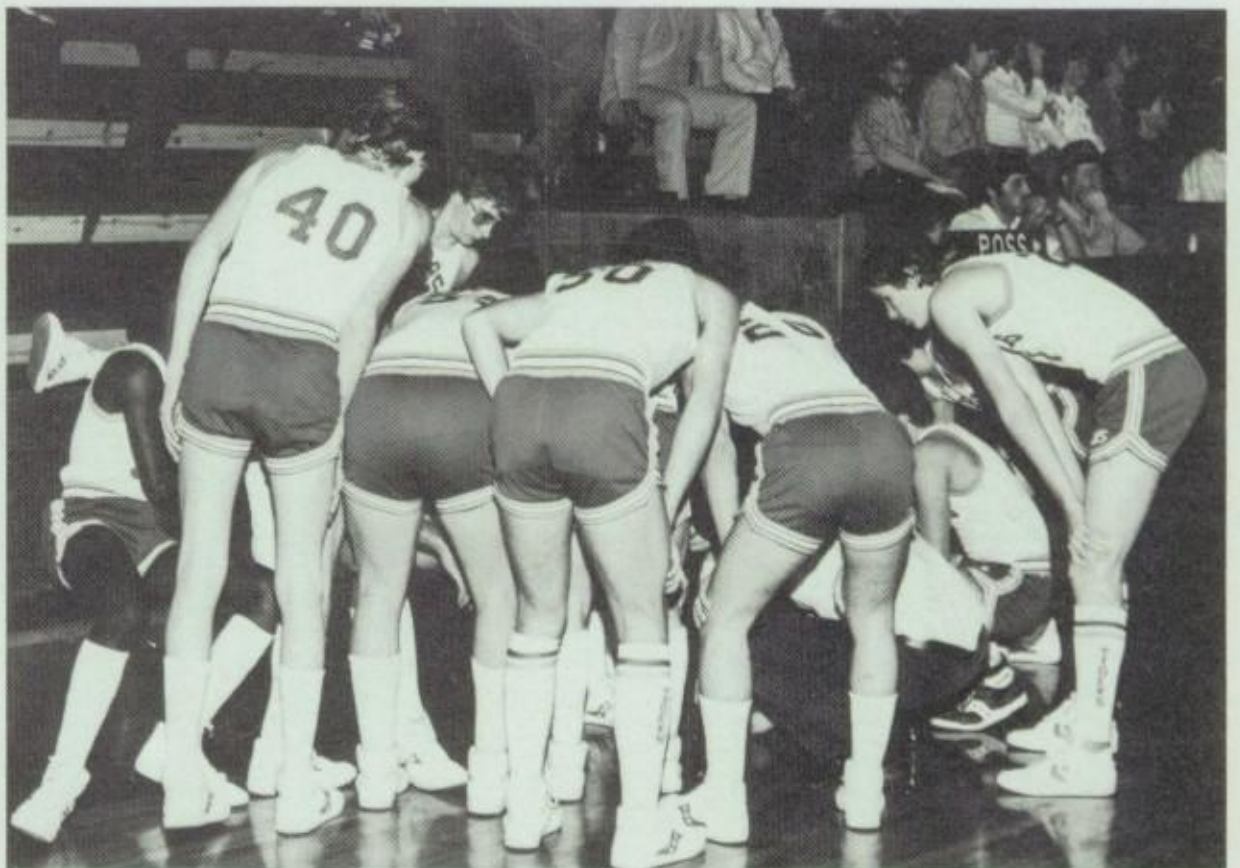

Tigers Travis Williams, Brett Williams, Tony Oakley, and Lyn Curran guard the basket from their Braggs opponents.

Sheri Greene seems pleased to encourage everyone to show their spirit.

Brett Williams and Lyn Curran hustle for a rebound.

The Tigers show their most photogenic side as they listen to Coach Elam.

Kim Sallee drives hard around a Braggs guard.

Spirited Viewpoint

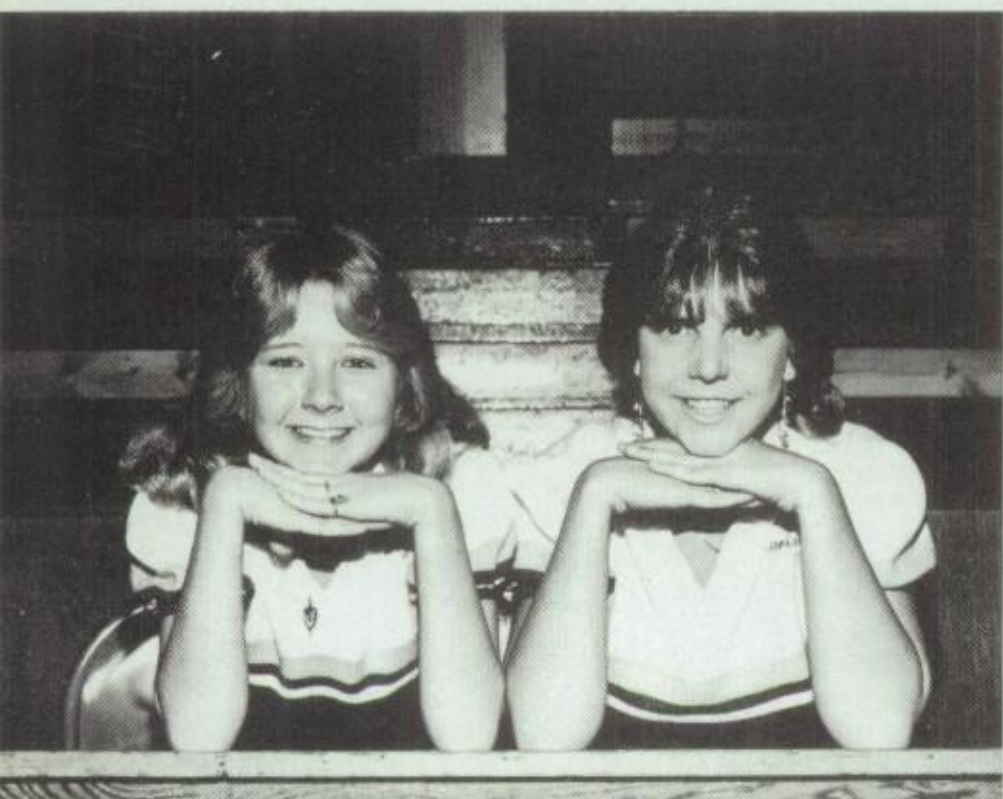

The 1985-86 Varsity Cheerleaders under the sponsorship of Mrs. Katy Smith, have raised spirit at Oktaha High School. Attending International Cheerleading Foundation Camp in Northeastern State University in July made these young ladies skillful in building pyramids along with spirit.

Larissa Ayers, right, served as 1985-86 cheerleading captain. This is Larissa's second year on the cheering squad and her second year at Oktaha. Larissa is a senior.

Sally Pipkins, left, served as co-captain of the cheerleaders. This is her third year as a cheerleader. Sally is a junior.

Varsity Cheerleaders 1985-86

Junior High Cheerleaders

Cheerleading is demanding. It's a matter of enunciating clearly while screaming at the top of the lungs. It means snappy cheers, hours of practice, tired muscles, hard concentration and tremendous self discipline. The cheerleaders of Oktaha Jr. High work very hard to raise the intensity level of players and fans.

Organization Viewpoint

The Organization Viewpoint is one of the busiest in the entire school. Organizations add spice to the life of most students, and a few headaches to the lives of all sponsors.

Whether it is the humanitarian effort of Betas collecting blood for the Red Cross, or the ear-pleasing music produced by the Tiger Pride, school organizations play a vital role in our school life.

Organization participation often teaches students lessons that will last a lifetime. Students in these organizations learn that hard work and fun should go hand in hand.

The 1986 Oktaha High School Marching Band shows great form.

Gina Cantrell and Traci Richey work hard and long on their yearbook pages.

Kim Sallee reassures Benny Waller as he contributes at the blood drive held in October at Oktaha United Methodist Church.

Who is that masked man? Could it be the fearless band director, John Harvey, in that canary suit?

One of the most exciting Pep Assemblies ever to raise the roof of Oktaha High School included Superintendent Jerry Needham kissing a pig in front of an overjoyed crowd. The money raised benefitted the yearbook.

Cheryl Bliss waits patiently for Mrs. York's assistance in computer class.

Band Viewpoint

In the 1985-86 school year the "Pride of Oktaha" began field marching for the first time. In competition against bands which had been field marching for a number of years, the band placed quite well, earning fifth place and the outstanding drum major award at the Wetumka contest, third place at the Spiro contest, and a rating of good at the Northeastern Regional Contest. The band also attended the OBA Regional contest.

This did not come easily, though: the band members were at school two weeks early, practicing field marching, and stayed after school three days a week afterward to continue bettering themselves.

The band also continued in parade marching competition. This year's awards include first place in the Cherokee Veteran's Parade in Tahlequah, Second Place in the Wetumka Contest Parade, and Third Place in the Eufaula Christmas Parade.

The band would like to thank Mr. Harvey for his long hours of work. We realize that we are fortunate to have a band director who cares as much as he, and that none of our accomplishments would have been possible without his leadership.

This year's Seniors in band are Larissa Ayers, who has been in band 6 years, Lawrence Greuel, 8 years, Jennifer Mullen, 2 years, Mike Ownby, 8 years, and Mark Satterfield, 5 years. All of this year's Seniors managed to obtain a field officer position.

The 1985-86 Pride of Oktaha. Front Row: Mike Ownby, Jeremy Roach, Mike Fulton, Nathan Rider, Eric Gaines, Joe Fisher, Shawn Pipkins, Brandon Chambers, Chris Matthews, Jason Biggs, Doug Williams, Travis Cates. Second Row: Brent Shropshire, Leon Davis, Dale Fulton, Shane Elam, Dwayne Elam, Paul Ayers, Sheri Sims, Becky Ayers, Jennifer Murr, Stephen Capps. Third Row: Jennifer Mullen, Emily Skinner, Lois Greuel, Valerie Jackson, Lanora Keith, Kim Emerson, Duane Sallee, Michelle Roberts, Jana Ayers, Shawn Roach, Greg Elam, Kim Schreiber, Stephanie Breshears. Back Row: Mary Wilson, Glen Carrell, Shannon Alverson, Lawrence Greuel, Larissa Ayers, Mark Satterfield, R. L. Keith, Mike Smith, Toby Ownby, Bryon Davis, Brandon Hill, John Paul Cates, Dana Ellison, and Mr. H. (The Boss).

This year's executive officers are President Marla Satterfield, Vice President Shawn Pipkins, Secretary Brandon Hill, Treasurer Larissa Ayers, Librarian Jana Ayers, Assistant Librarian Michelle Roberts, Reporter Jennifer Mullen, Equipment Manager Stephanie Breshears, and Field Manager Bryon Davis.

For the first time this year, marching officers have been appointed by Mr. Harvey to assist in teaching marching drills to the younger students. They are Assistant Drum Major Sheri Sims, Flag Captain Jennifer Mullen, Drum Captain Mike Fulton, and Sergeants Larissa Ayers, Lawrence Greuel, and Mark Satterfield.

The Drum Major of the Pride this year is Mike Ownby.

This year's flag team is Stephanie Breshears, Jennifer Mullen, and Kim Schreiber.

Beta Club

The Beta Club seeks to recognize high school students who display leadership abilities, personal integrity, academic achievement and a demonstrated willingness to serve one's fellow citizens. Oktaha received its charter from the national organization five years ago and began with twenty-two members. The Beta Club helps people in our community through various activities such as Blood Drives, green plant sales on St. Patrick's Day to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association and preparing fruit baskets for the needy at Christmas. Fund-raisers throughout the year help Beta's get money for the annual trip to state convention, which is a much "looked forward to" activity.

Yearbook

The 1986 yearbook, the Viewpoint, is a result of many hours of work by a bright, fun-loving group of students and an advisor who was determined to teach them dedication was the real key to completing their book. Fortunately, Mrs. Mann was successful, and despite the journalistic headaches, we finished the Viewpoint on time ... and still managed to enjoy ourselves while doing it. We hope you enjoy it as well. The staff: First row: Jennifer Mullen, Kirsten Fredrick, Netta Bowden, Chris Harris. Second row: Stacey Morgan, Kim Coppin, Karla Evington, Advisor - Patsy Mann. Third row: Mike Ownby, Larissa Ayers, Lawrence Greuel, James Wright. Not pictured are Gina Cantrell and Traci Richey.

Editor: Kirsten D. Fredrick

Co-Editor: Stacey J. Morgan

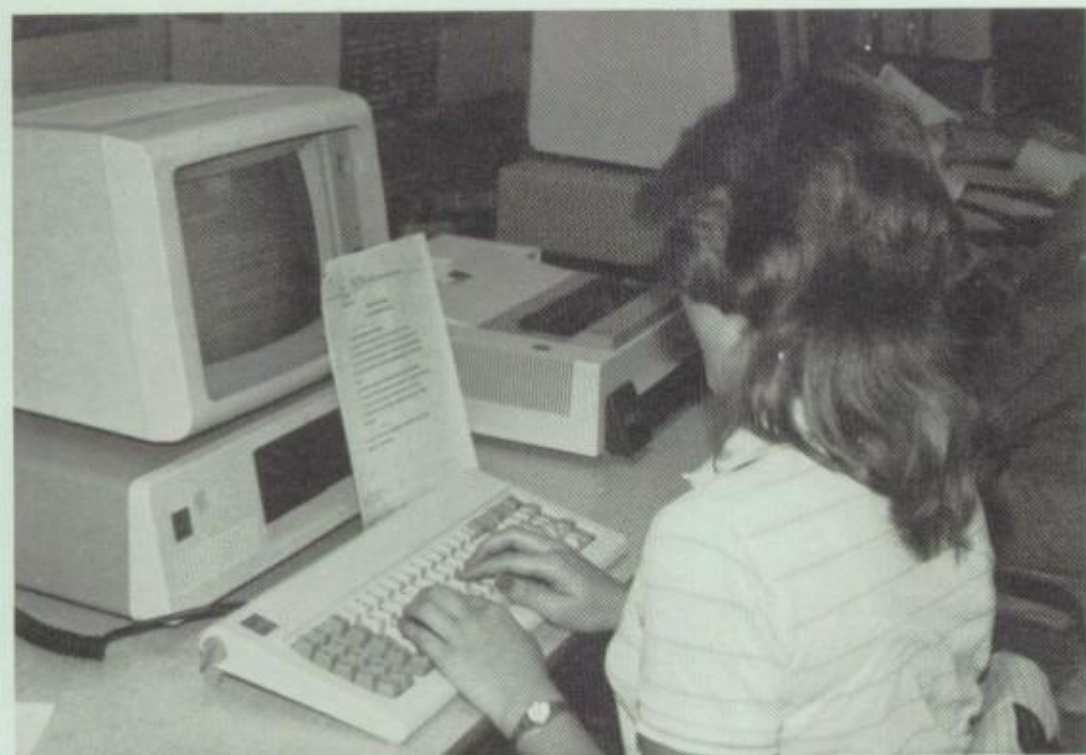

To raise funds for yearbook, a "Kiss a Pig" contest was held. A jar for each candidate was set in both elementary and high school buildings. Whoever's jars held the most money was the winner. Our "Romeo", by a landslide, was none other than Mr. Needham. Special thanks go to our other two participants; Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Buckley. Thanks to all three and real high-spirited student body, we had one of the best pep assemblies Oktaha has seen in years!

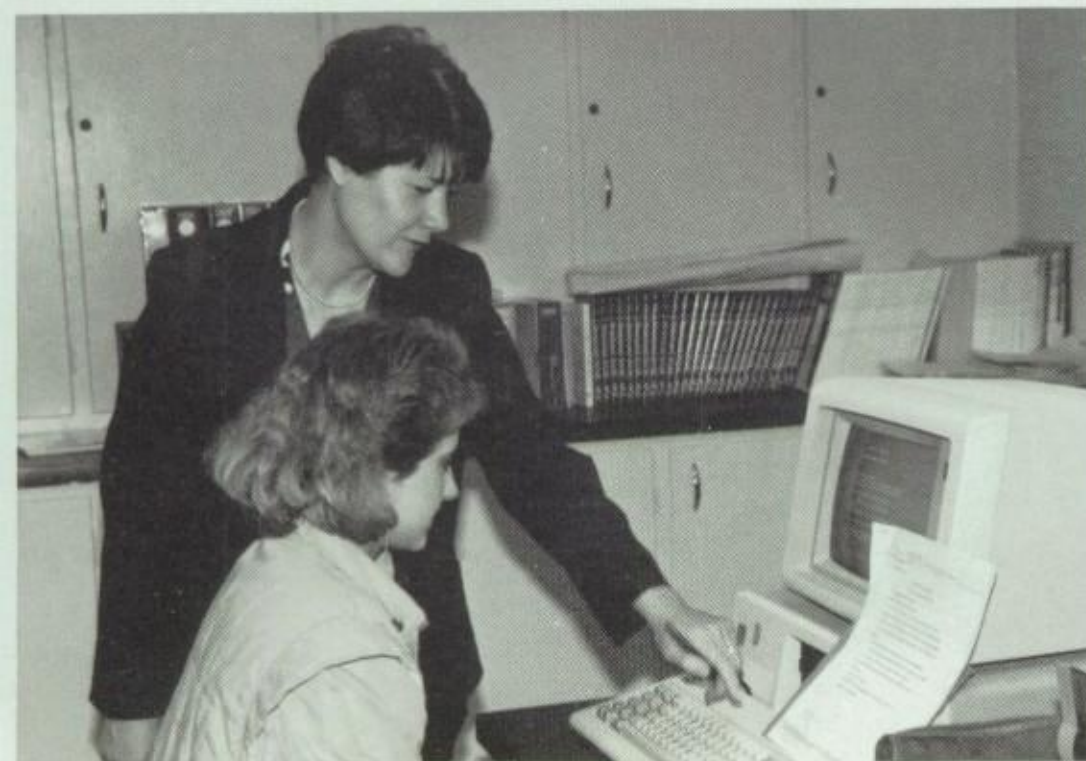

Computer Science

The Computer Science program is still a new addition to Oktaha's curriculum. This is only the second year it has been offered but the number of students enrolled has nearly doubled since its introduction. Two reasons the enrollment has grown is because of a state grant allowing our school to purchase five more computers and remodel a room, specifically for this class's use.

Royalty Viewpoint

Sugar and spice, boutonnieres and bow ties, fluttering hearts and rustling satin are all a part of the Royalty Viewpoint.

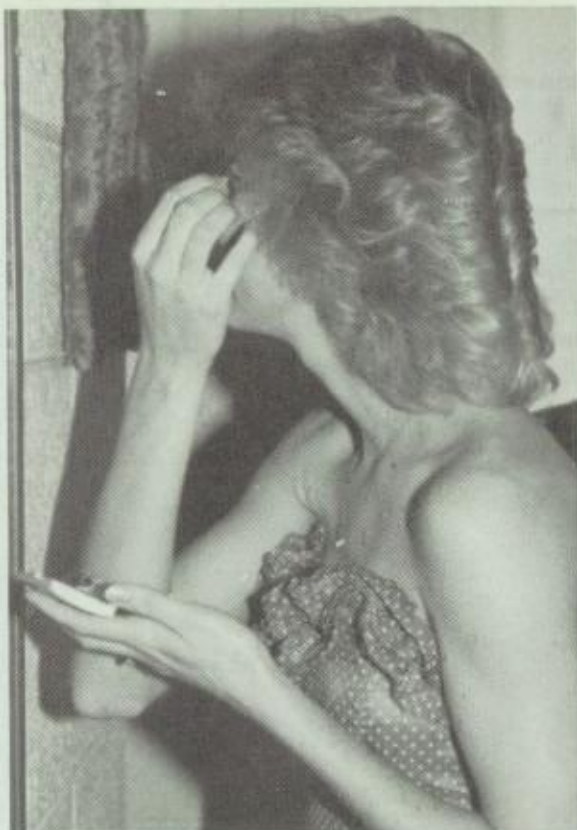

Some of the queens are selected by their peers. Others earn their titles in fund raising events. Some kings are elected, others chosen as an escort by the queen.

But no matter how the titles are bestowed, the coronation proves to be a very special time in the school life of each queen, king, attendant, escort, flower girl, or crownbearer. The time the coronation takes may be brief, but the impressions made will last a lifetime.

James Wright was actually only crowning Susan Elmenhorst, not feeding her.

Lyn Curran courteously hands the roses to pretty Leslie Felts.

Jimmy Jackson and Paula Harris are happy to hold hands and smile pretty for the photographer.

Is Lawrence Greuel getting ready to kiss Larissa Ayers, or ask her to dance?

Angelina Williams pins a boutonniere on Brett Williams' tux.

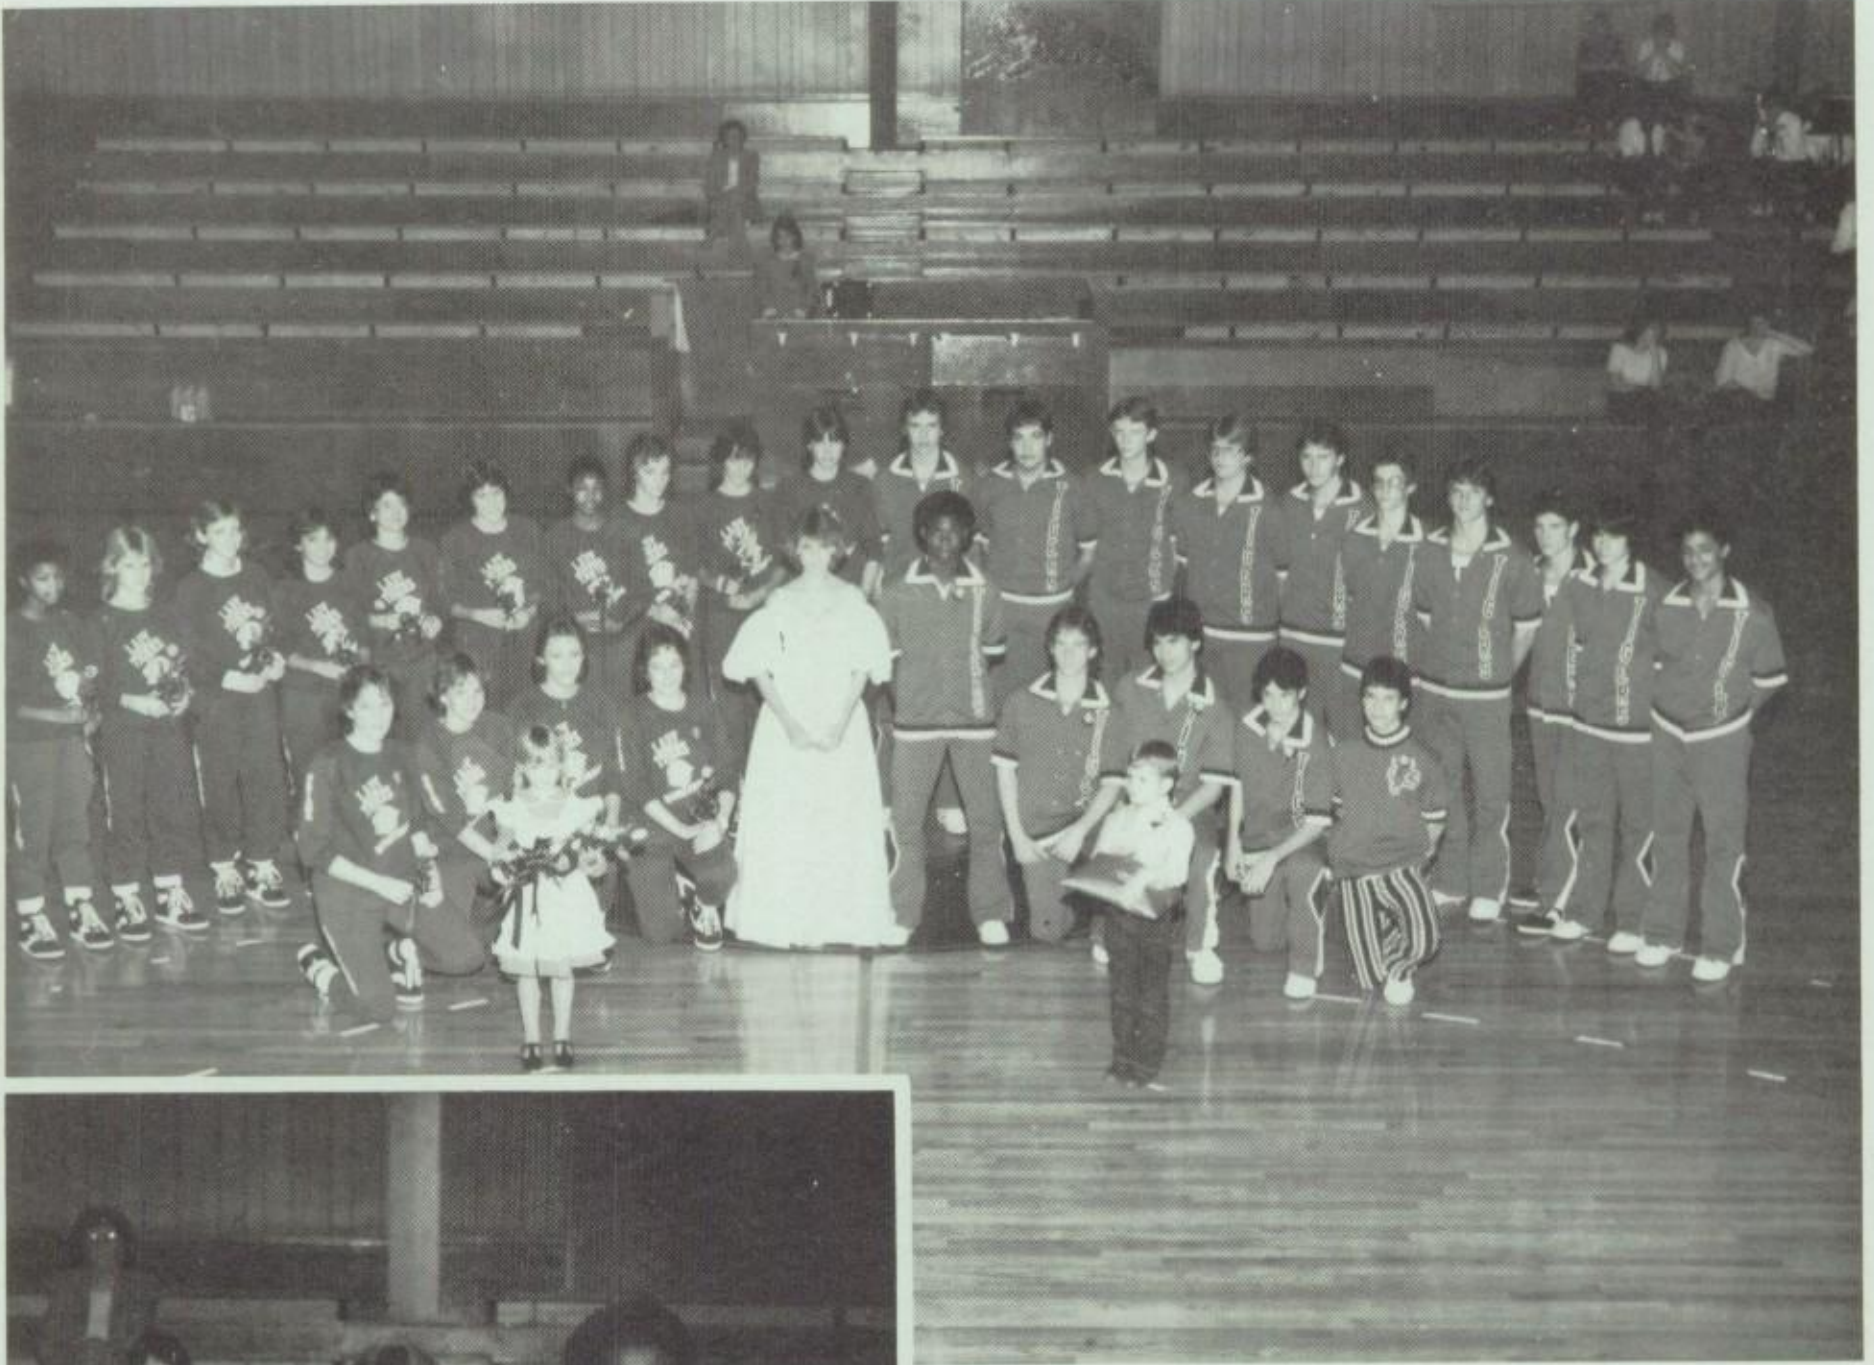

Band Royalty

Miss Larissa Ayers was selected by her fellow band members as Band Queen. Lawrence Greuel was also selected by the band members to be Band King. Senior Attendant was Jennifer Mullen, escorted by Mark Satterfield. Junior Attendant was Sheri Sims, escorted by Michael Fulton. Sophomore/Freshman Attendant was Cindi Mace, escorted by R.L. Keith. Junior High Attendant was Stephanie Breashears, escorted by Shawn Pipkins. Flower Girl was Paula Harris, escorted by Crown Bearer Jimmy Jackson.

Basketball Royalty

Miss Susan Elmenhorst was chosen by the Tigers to be Basketball Queen. James Wright was chosen by the Tigerettes as Basketball King. Senior Attendant was Angelina Williams, escorted by Travis Williams. Junior Attendant was Kelly Chebahtah, escorted by Brett Williams. Sophomore Attendant was Leslie Collier, escorted by Brad Webb. Freshman Attendant was Tracy Williams, escorted by Brent Williams. Flower Girl was Cindy Jackson, escorted by Crown Bearer Justin Stacey. The 1985-86 Tigers and Tigerettes participated in the Basketball Coronation also.

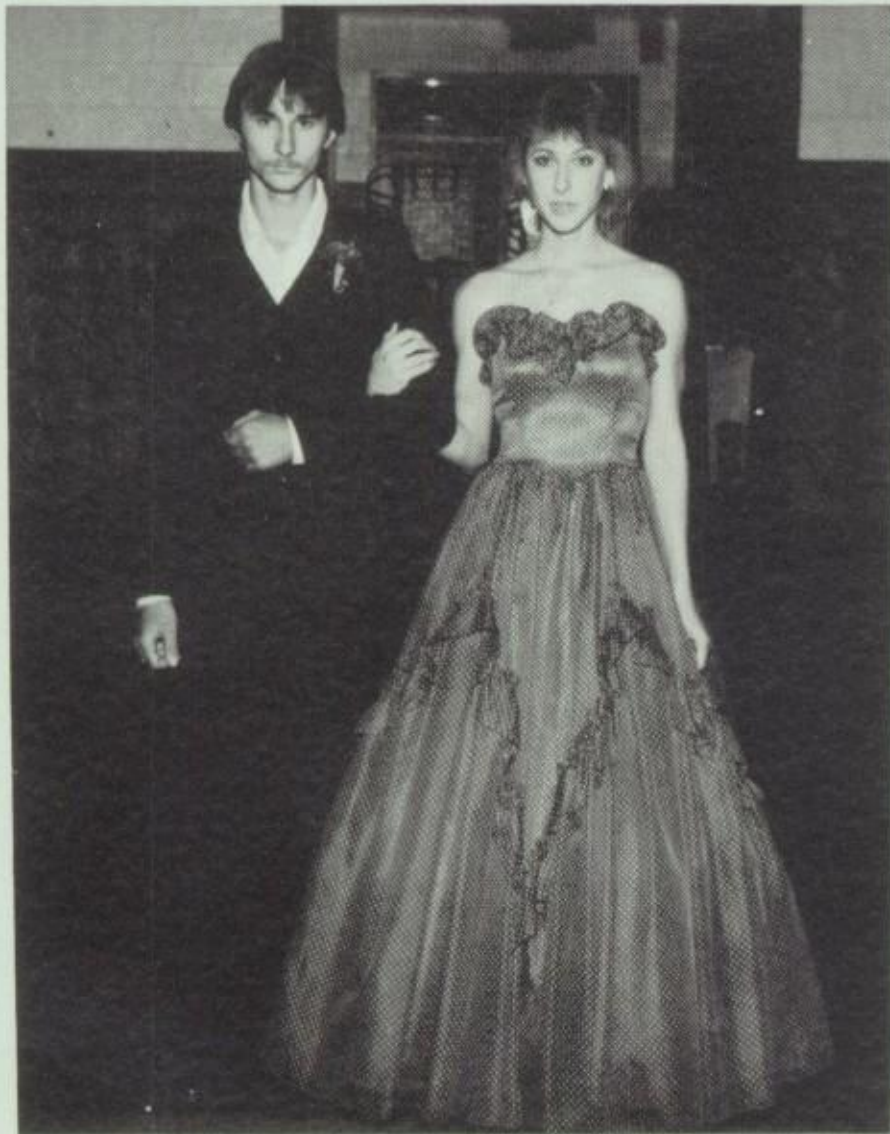

Beta Royalty

Miss Karla Evington won the honorable title of Beta Queen. David Brown was selected as King. Both are seniors. Junior Cheryl Bliss was escorted by Brett Williams. Sophomore Michelle Qualls was escorted by James Milligan. Flower Girl was Misty Sallee, and Crown Bearer was Chad Morgan.

Carnival Royalty

Miss Susan Elmenhorst was selected by her classmates as Carnival Queen. Mike Fuller was her King. Sophomore Attendant was Tanya Lewis, escorted by Brandon Hill. Junior Attendant was Jennifer Mullen, escorted by Christopher Harris. Sophomore Attendant was Cassie Scogin, escorted by Lyn Curran. Rachael Fredrick was Flower Girl, and Matthew Mann was Crown Bearer.

4-H Royalty

Miss Andrea Walker won the title of 4-H Queen this year. 4-H queen is decided by raising the most money, which goes to the 4-H club. Seventh grader Jennifer Murr was escorted by Brandon Chambers. Eighth grader Judy Bannon was escorted by Greg Elam. Eighth grader Michelle Roberts was escorted by Ronnie Walker. Kristen Stacy was Flower Girl, escorted by Crown Bearer Dustin Andrews.

FFA Royalty

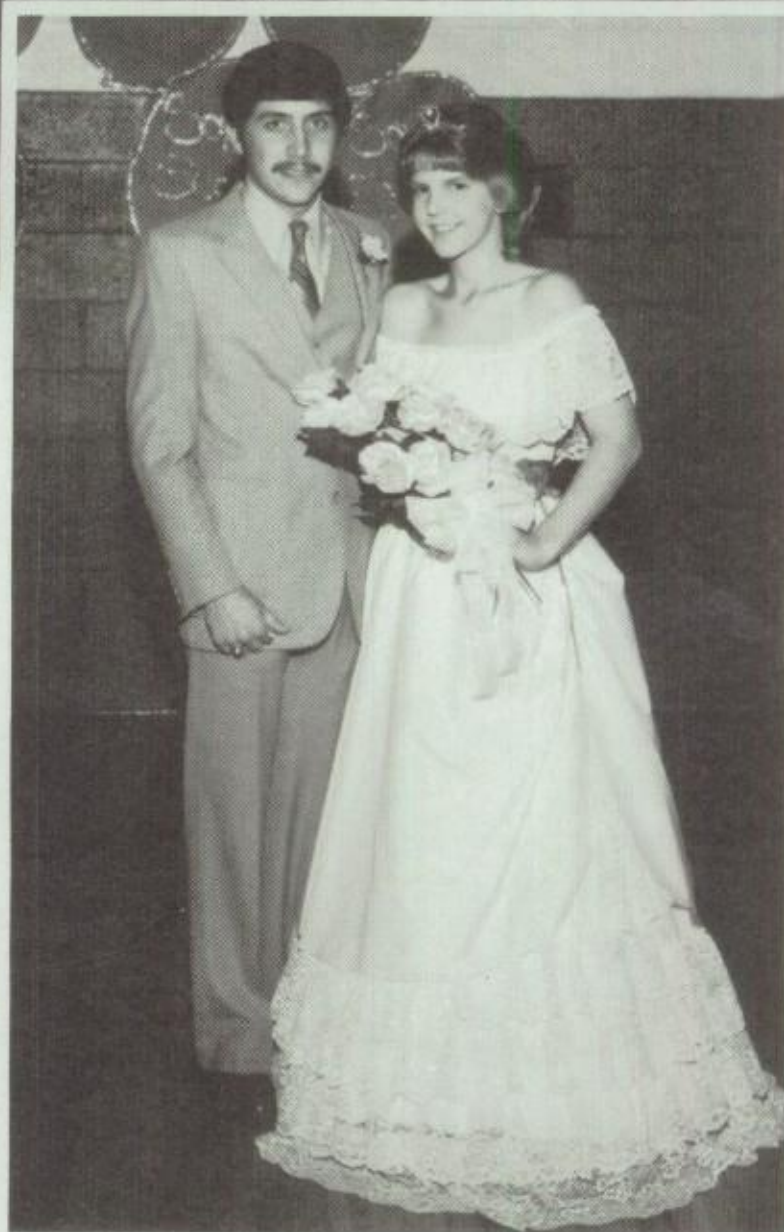

Miss Leslie Felts won the honorable title of FFA Sweetheart. Christopher Harris was King. Leslie is a Sophomore and Christopher is a Senior. Freshman Monica Allen was escorted by Sophomore Joe Day. Senior Jennifer Mullen was escorted by Sophomore Lyn Curran. Junior Kelly Chebah-tah was escorted by Sophomore Shane Andrews. Flower Girl was Mandy Moore, and Crown Bearer was Justin Stacy.

Yearbook Royalty

Miss Larrissa Ayers was selected Yearbook Queen, while Lawrence Greuel was chosen King. Shannon Beauvais was the Freshmen attendant, and was escorted by Lance Emerson. Sheri Greene was the Sophomore attendant, and was escorted by Shawn Harris. Abby Hubbard was the Junior attendant, and was escorted by Chris Skadal. Gina Cantrell was the Senior attendant, and was escorted by Christopher Harris. Megan Mitchell was the Flower Girl while Matthew Mann was Crown Bearer.

Halloween Carnival

Mr. Briggs looks on as compulsive gambler, Brandon Hill, plays the freshmen class's "Ring Toss."

Seventh grader, Shane Elam really enjoys a good smack in the face.

Ronald Smith inquires about G.I. Joe's (aka David Brown) latest adventure.

Faculty Viewpoint

The Faculty Viewpoint is one looking out from the qualities of dedication, preparation, support, and hard work.

The administration of Oktaha schools, including the board of education, the superintendent, and the principals, constantly strive to make the school function like a smooth - running machine. They always keep in mind what is best for the product produced there, the student.

Hitting the books hard every day is the job of teachers. They realize there is not a moment to spare when working with students and the perishable commodity of time.

Support personnel do just what their name suggests — support. They provide transportation, hot meals, well maintained facilities, accurate records, and professional assistance to help students reach their goals.

Working as a team, the faculty persistently labor to help students become all that they can be.

Mrs. Betty Todd explains the English language to juniors Leona Greuel, Cristy Colbert, Kelly Chebatah, Jackie Whittle, and Rhonda South.

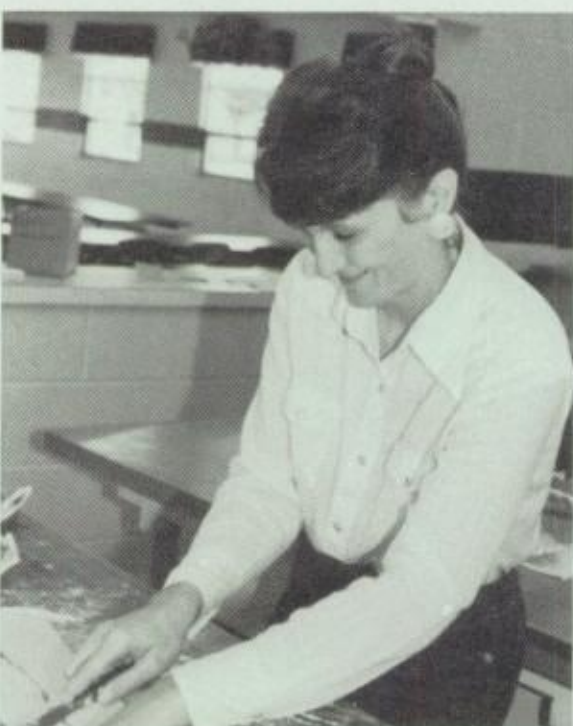

Mr. Harold Fuller cheerfully keeps the buildings clean and in good repair.

Mrs. Carla Grace prepares an eye-catching bulletin board display for her kindergarten students.

All support personnel at Oktaha schools were honored in October with a reception.

Mrs. Martha Allen prepares dough for those wonderful hot rolls.

Experienced Viewpoint

Mr. T. C. Edwards retired from the Oktaha School System on September 30, 1985. He has served as superintendent for the past fifteen years.

During his tenure at Oktaha, he piloted much growth and progress in the system. Students and faculty admire his gentle, businesslike manner and his unswerving concern for his "kiddos".

Mr. Edwards began his career in education in 1950 at Stidham. He is a graduate of Northeastern Oklahoma State College (now University).

Along with his wife Anna, Mr. Edwards now lives in his new home in Warner.

Guiding Viewpoint

Members of the Oktaha School Board give unselfishly of their time and talents. Pictured at left, from top to bottom, are: James Smith, President; Jim Eller, Vice-President; Jeanne Rorex, Clerk; James Murr, Member; and Jack Roach, Member.

Mr. Jerry Needham has filled two jobs this year — that of high school principal and as acting superintendent.

Mrs. Neoma Buckley has also served in two positions — as grade school principal and as assistant high school principal.

Varied Viewpoint

Clockwise: Benny Williams and Scotty Watson look tough, but everyone knows how sweet they really are.

Shelly Allen is seriously considering something; the question is, what?

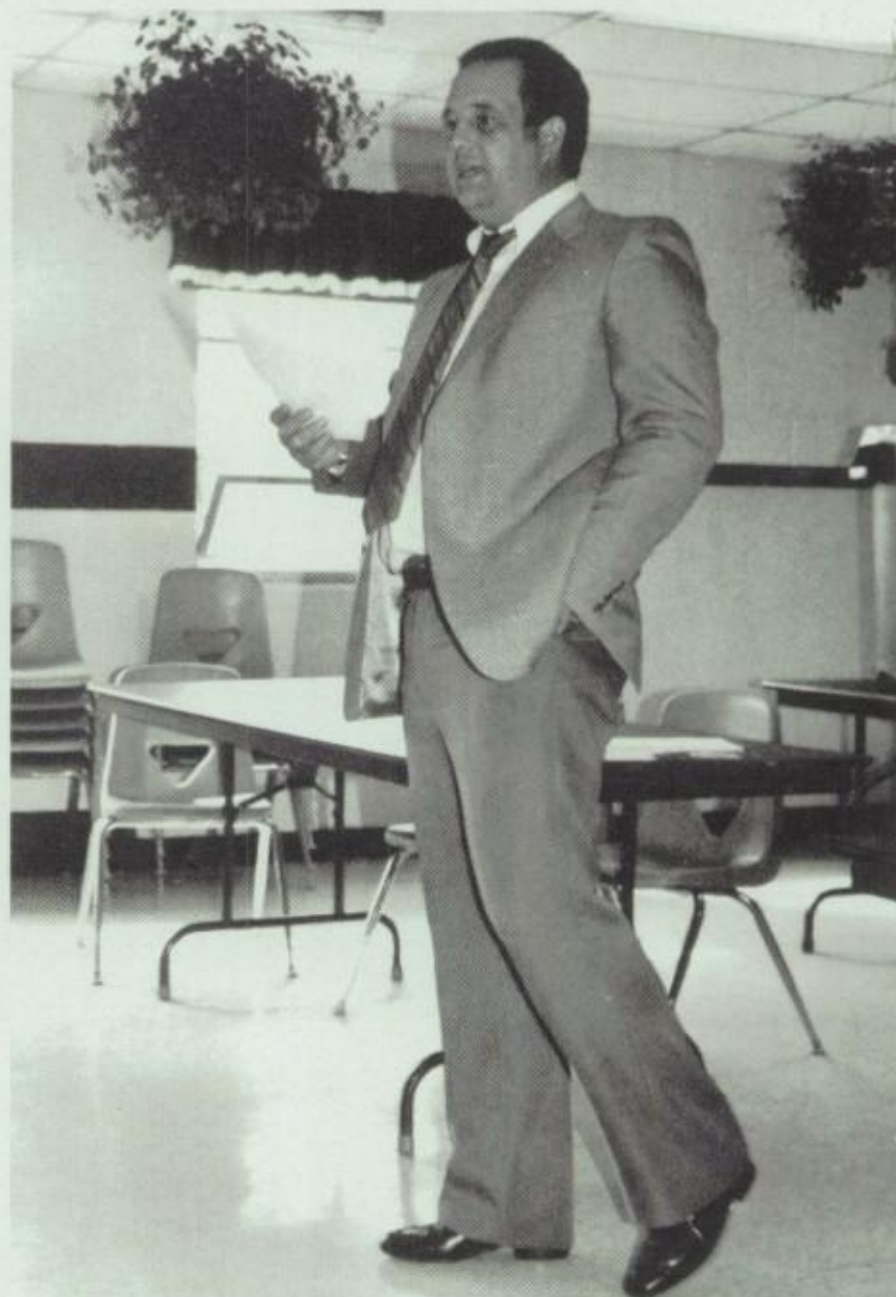

Mr. Needham, well prepared with notes, addresses a group of teachers.

Is that Super Fly or Angelina Williams behind those Foster Grants?

The Two Todds, alias Mrs. Betty Todd and Mrs. Janice Todd, cook up another scheme. Watch out, students!
